Dear Friends and Partners in Christ,

As the Christmas season approaches, we are reminded of the joy of giving and the many ways God has blessed us. With each blessing, we have the opportunity to extend that gift of God's provision to others.

As you read through this gift catalogue, we hope you will be encouraged by the many ways God is already at work through our brothers and sisters around the world, who are faithfully sharing the gospel in the midst of great hardship and persecution.

We may never see the full impact of what we give, but we can trust the God who does. He is faithful to provide, and He invites us to be part of His work. To Him be all the glory!

Wishing you a merry Christmas,
The WorldServe Team

PASTOR PARTNERSHIPS

Equipping pastors with the funds and tools they need to serve their communities

From Emilio*, a pastor in Latin America:

“We ventured into the mountains, to a remote village to bring the Gospel of Jesus Christ to them. The roads were arduous and transportation difficult, but knowing so many people had not yet had the opportunity to hear the Gospel filled us with strength.

When we spoke of God's creation and love for humanity, of Christ's coming into the world to sacrifice himself for humanity's sins, they didn't leave, but listened intently.

We may not have a grand pulpit or a comfortable meeting place, but the Gospel itself doesn't need fancy packaging. As long as someone is willing to share, someone will hear. There is always opportunities to bring hope to another family.”

BIBLE DISTRIBUTION

Delivering Bibles where access to Scripture is scarce, heavily restricted, or lost through conflict or natural disasters

Hani* is a six-year-old girl who recently learned to read. For two years, her mother has taken her and her sister to church, but her father had left the country. He knew the Lord in his youth but later drifted away, a subject he would not allow anyone to discuss with him.

This year, Hani started first grade with a clear goal: to read the Bible to her father during their video calls. She declared: “I am important to my dad; therefore, he will listen to me.” She repeatedly asked her Sunday school teacher to mark the week’s passage in her Bible so she could read it to her father.

A few weeks ago, her father returned and visited our church to share his testimony. He recalled how every reading—slow, halting, and imperfect—pierced his heart. It was not her skill that moved him, but the persistence and excitement with which she shared the Word. Through Hani’s young but strong faith, God touched his heart and brought him home.

CHILDREN'S MINISTRY

Training leaders to lead nurturing, fun-filled camps and Sunday schools where children learn, grow in faith, and build strong communities

Maikel* is a 9-year-old boy who loves sports. He is a very restless child and used to wander around his neighborhood.

One day, he found a group of kids who were laughing and playing soccer together. They laughed, played, and practiced sports together. Their coaches and teachers were kind, patient and took care of the children. He also heard them tell stories about a man named Jesus and His love for everyone, including Maikel.

Through this group, Maikel found a place where he was welcomed, cared for, encouraged and supported in his faith journey. Today, he has become a little missionary, bringing other children to the feet of Jesus and sharing with them the same love and acceptance that he first experienced through the group.

WORLDSERVE BIBLE COLLEGE

Offering theological and pastoral courses, equipping pastors to better understand and apply biblical principles

From Birhano*, a WSBC graduate:

"I have been training teachers for years and have participated in several national conferences related to teacher training, but these expository preaching workshops have challenged me like never before, marking a turning point in my life. I realized that I had often used the Bible to support my own ideas, rather than allowing God to speak through it; I was deeply moved to see how the Word once again takes center stage in the pulpit. Without a doubt, our preaching has now focused on teaching the Word as it truly is. The pastors themselves testify that they prepare their messages with prayer, context, and faithfulness to the biblical text. We are seeing conversions, restorations, and a renewed love for the Bible.

Thank you for investing in something that is transforming entire churches!"

IMPACT MINISTRIES

Empowering church leaders to seek God's vision and together, take action to strengthen their churches and transforms their communities

Yanet* is a mother of two children with disabilities, whose needs significantly limit her ability to work and provide for her family. With a limited income, she often has to make difficult choices, stretching what little she has to put food on the table for herself and her children.

During these challenging times, support from the church has helped ease some of that pressure, providing food and basic necessities while allowing the family to put more of their limited resources toward essential medical needs.

Yanet shared how deeply grateful she is for the church and everyone who makes this support possible: "For our family, this support has been a relief during very difficult times. The assistance with food and basic items has allowed us to pay for other important medical needs. You have not only supported our finances; you have strengthened our faith."

$1000

Support the community initiatives of 8-10 pastors (including children's ministry, worship services, hospital visits, care for the elderly)

COMPASSIONATE AID & CONTAINERS

Providing nutritious meals through local churches to families and individuals challenged by poverty, illness, and isolation

At 80 years old, Daw Khin* is no longer able to work to provide for herself. She lives with her 61-year-old daughter, who is also a widow and faces the same challenges. Together, they struggle with constant food shortages and the uncertainty of not knowing where their next meal will come from.

When they received the donated food—rice, oil, salt, and beans—their response was one of great joy and gratitude. These simple but essential items came at a time when they were facing significant need, providing not only food for their household but also a sense of comfort and relief.

For Daw Khin and her daughter, the donation was a meaningful reminder that they are not alone in their struggles. The support helped ease the burden of putting food on the table and brought encouragement during a difficult season of their lives.

$40	Supply one family with a food package (rice, beans, oil & salt)
$350	Provide 10,000 servings of soup

TRAINING COURSES

Equipping individuals through a variety of workshops, including agricultural education, counselling, and leadership conferences

From Addisu*, a trauma counselling participant:

“When I was attending school, I was abused and ridiculed every day for being Jewish. One day, I decided never to show up at that school again. I went further into the countryside, to a village where no one knew me, and lived as a farmer.

Now, I am old and still do not know where my family is. The village where I grew up is completely destroyed; many were massacred or scattered all over because of the war. In my head, I go through so many thoughts about my parents, my siblings, and the others, and I wonder where they are or how they died. My heritage, my history, and my identity are completely lost.

But now, after this program, I found peace and healing, and also found Christ, the Savior, who can give me ultimate peace. Thank you.”

$10	Cover the cost of agricultural training for one participant
$120	Provide lodging & transportation for one person receiving counselling

MICROBUSINESS TRAINING & LOANS

Providing business loans to families and individuals, creating sustainable, stable income for their families and church communities

From Eduardo*, a farmer:

"The national water shortage prevented us from having a successful rice harvest, but thanks to this loan, we were able to diversify our crops and plant beans, tomatoes, peanuts, and coconuts. We also purchased machinery to extract sesame oil, providing another source of income.

Now, we are once again able to cover our workers' wages and keep the farm running. Despite the challenges, we continue working hard to sustain food production and provide for our community.

Our work extends beyond the farm. We also support our community through donations to community kitchens, a home for single mothers, and local hospitals. We want to give back and contribute well-being of our community, even amid the challenges facing the agricultural sector."

$80 — Equip an entrepreneur with micro-business training

$800 — Support 8–10 pastors working together for their communities for 1 month

Purposeful Gifts. Lasting Hope.

ETERNAL IMPACT.

Every gift has a story, but no gift stands alone. Through the local church, God is using acts of generosity to strengthen His people, equip leaders, reach families, and share the hope of the Gospel in communities around the world.

What begins with a meal, a Bible, a child's camp experience, or a training opportunity can become part of something much greater. Churches are growing stronger. Families are finding hope. And people are hearing the good news of Jesus.

Thank you for being part of this work. Together, we get to witness God use His people to build His Church and advance His Kingdom around the world.
